

Roxana Barba

Roxana Barba is a Miami-based artist, whose practice incorporates interdisciplinary uses of performance, video art, installation and mixed media. At times minimalistic and meditative, and at times layered with multi-sensory storytelling, her artwork gestures towards personal and cosmic paradigms. Roxana often seeks to disarm power structures by drawing connections between healing rituals and delicate atmospheres that strive to use poetry as a gesture of denunciation.

Her interest in cross-disciplinary collaborations and improvisational practices in the development of site-specific works have received support from The Knight Foundation and South Florida PBS, as well as commissions from Miami Light Project, PAXy and Foundation for Emerging Arts and Technologies and invitations to present at the Perez Art Museum Miami and Miami Performance Festival. Her films have also screened and toured internationally.

Roxana pursued undergraduate visual arts studies in her native Perú prior to receiving her BFA in Dance from New World School of the Arts (Miami, Florida). She has been in residency at Cucalorus Film Festival (North Carolina, US) and Correlacion Contemporanea (Peru) and became a resident artist at Laundromat Art Space in May, 2021.

Roxana Barba
Resistente a la Matriz, 2021
Collage
11" x 14" (18.5" x 15.5" framed)
$1,050

Resistente a la Matriz is part of a series of collages exploring zoomorphic figures. In Andean cosmovision, birds represent the Hanan Pacha, the upper world or worlds of spirits. Birds are considered powerful deities for being able to transcend the terrenal plane and communicate with the skies.

Roxana Barba
Pico, 2021
Collage
11" x 14" (15.5" x 18.5" framed)
$1,050

Pico is part of a series of collages exploring zoomorphic figures. In Andean cosmovision, birds represent the Hanan Pacha, the upper world or world of spirits. Birds are considered powerful deities for being able to transcend the terrenal plane and communicate with the skies.

For any inquiries please contact ArtToSaveLives Contemporary at 845-548-5161
gallery@arttosavelives.org