

ArtToSaveLives Contemporary

“Flor’s Particles” by JuanCarlos rLora

“Particles” derives from the “Sunflower” (Flor del Sol) series, which is a concept of a Flower of Love. Here, our main character Flor begins her cosmic journey, this is the part where Flor’s body disintegrates into particles, or cosmic dust, and floats off into the cosmos. The pieces of her body become components of galaxies that breed life in the vastness of space, while her soul is reborn on the surface of a star, a different sun. She will remain there until the world becomes a better place for all its inhabitants, and only then will she return back to her home - Earth.

Fun Fact: JuanCarlos' art serves a greater purpose—through the proceeds from his art sales, he actively supports an animal rescue mission known as ArtToSaveLives, a cause he has been passionately involved in since 2006.

JuanCarlos rLora

Dancing Dandelions (Shades)

Acrylic and oil on canvas

24 x 36 in

Inquire

Juan Carlos Lora

Orbital Landscape

Acrylic and oil on canvas

19 x 40 in

Inquire

Juan Carlos Lora

Underwater Garden

Acrylic and oil on canvas

18 x 43 in

Inquire

Juan Carlos Lora

Comet

Acrylic and oil on board

20 x 48 in (triptych)

Inquire

Juan Carlos Lora

Saturn

Acrylic and oil on canvas

18 x 28 in

Inquire

JuanCarlos rLora

Bird of Paradise

Acrylic and oil on canvas

17 x 40 in

Inquire

JuanCarlos rLora

Dots

Acrylic and oil on canvas

20 x 16 in

Inquire

Juan Carlos Lora

Ocular

Acrylic and oil on linen

19.5 x 25.5 in (with artist frame)

Inquire

ArtToSaveLives Contemporary

JuanCarlos rLora

Sistema

Acrylic and oil on canvas board

16 x 20 in

Inquire

Juan Carlos Lora

Stains

Acrylic and oil on canvas board

16 x 20 in

Inquire